

Echoes of Harmony: A Ballad for World Peace

(Verse 1)

In a world torn by strife and fear,
Where hatred's flames burn bright,
There shines a dream both bold and clear,
A beacon in the night.

(Chorus)

World peace, oh world peace,
A melody so grand,
Heaven's choir shall never cease,
Till it fills every land.

(Verse 2)

From the mountains high to the valleys low,
And across the vast blue sea,
Let love and understanding flow,
Binding hearts in unity.

(Chorus)

World peace, oh world peace,
A harmony divine,
May every soul find sweet release,
In this sacred design.

(Bridge)

Let swords be turned to plowshares,
And guns to instruments of song,
As nations lay aside their cares,
And right each ancient wrong.

(Verse 3)

So raise your voices high and strong,
Let the chorus fill the air,
For in this dream we all belong,
A world where all can share.

(Chorus)

World peace, oh world peace,
Let it ring throughout the land,
In every heart, let love increase,
Till peace at last shall stand.

(Outro)

So let us strive with all our might,
For this vision to come true,
Till every dawn brings forth the light,
Of a world at peace anew.
