

Rocky Mountain Harmony: Colorado's Song of Heaven

(Verse 1)

In the heart of the Rockies, where the wild winds blow,
There's a place that feels like heaven, where the rivers flow.
With peaks that touch the sky, and valleys lush and green,
Colorado's beauty is the greatest sight I've seen.

(Chorus)

Colorado, oh Colorado, heaven on earth to me,
With your clear blue skies and your mountains high,
You set my spirit free.
From the plains to the canyons, every corner holds a dream,
Colorado, oh Colorado, where the soul finds its gleam.

(Verse 2)

In the golden glow of sunset, the colours paint the land,
Aspen leaves whisper secrets, written in the sand.
From Denver to Durango, the spirit's running wild,
In every mile of beauty, I find my inner child.

(Chorus)

Colorado, oh Colorado, heaven on earth to me,
With your clear blue skies and your mountains high,
You set my spirit free.
From the plains to the canyons, every corner holds a dream,
Colorado, oh Colorado, where the soul finds its gleam.

(Bridge)

I've wandered 'cross this country, seen its wonders true,
But Colorado, you're the one that steals my heart anew.
In your snowy peaks and fields of gold, I find my peace at last,
Colorado, you're a memory that forever will last.

(Chorus)

Colorado, oh Colorado, heaven on earth to me,
With your clear blue skies and your mountains high,
You set my spirit free.
From the plains to the canyons, every corner holds a dream,
Colorado, oh Colorado, where the soul finds its gleam.

(Outro)

So I'll raise my voice in praise, to the land that I adore,
Colorado, you're the one I'll always long for.
In your beauty, I find solace, in your embrace, I find my worth,
Colorado, oh Colorado, the greatest place on Earth.
